

Ras Al Khaimah to attract small start up companies

Ras Al Khaimah (RAK) is offering special facilities to bring in a larger number of small start-up companies to their free zones. Services such as virtual office, e-office and flexi-desk cater to the needs of small businesses by keeping operational costs to a minimum and providing accessibility.

Ras Al Khaimah hopes to attract these companies to invest in their free trade zones by offering a good range of services and facilities for small businesses.

One of the main reasons that many small start-up companies invest in Ras Al Khaimah and the other emirates is because of the high level of taxes in their home country.
