

Ras Al Khaimah Investment Authority attend investor's summit

Sovereign Wealth Funds which rank amongst the worlds most affluent and sophisticated institutional investors, are finding and exploiting opportunities around the globe created by the economic downturn. High profile investments have highlighted the ability of such institutions to channel their excess liquidity into lucrative deals on undervalued assets.

At The Middle East Investors Summit, taking place at the Emirates Towers Hotel, Dubai, 14th – 16th October 2008 investors and their advisors will examine opportunities within the region and globally and develop innovative strategies for accessing investments in present market conditions.

Dr. Khater Massaad, Personal Advisor of HH Sheikh Saud bin Saqr Al Qasimi, Chief Executive Officer of the Ras Al Khaimah Investment Authority is one of the speakers at the summit and will be looking at opportunities for the Ras Al Khaimah Investment Authority at the summit.
